

The purpose of Amateur Radio is communication. Transmitting SSB wider than necessary is contrary to the purpose of Amateur radio, creates unnecessary interference, has a generally negative impact on the hobby. I feel 3Khz is wide enough for a SSB signal while 6KHz should suffice for a DSB signal.